The telegraph, or rather the Agent of the ssociated Press, through the telegraph, has spread all over the country a special dispatch from Washington to the New York Herald, in which it is said that "a spirit is being aroused that will result in placing the man who shall dare offer a proposition to compromise with ments, as have recently taken place, has had traitors in the same category, and to hang the effect to increase and strengthen the appre-

in fairness, at least, until the nature of such proposals is officially made public, to be considered as competent to decide whether it is proper to take them into consideration, or to put the proposals into the fire and hang the proposers

There are two classes of men-the ultra Abo-Helonists of the North and the ultra Secessionists of the South-who live in perpetual nervous anxiety and mortal fear lest the war should be ended before their darling schemes are realized. They are both bent on one of two things-either that the Government shall be administered according to their sectional standard, or the Union dissolved. Any peace or compromise effected without accomplishing one or the other of these paramount objects, will in their view be disnonorable and treasonable. And he who, in either section, shall dare propose a cessation of the war on any other terms than those these ex tremists dictate, will be pronounced a traitor, and his immediate execution demanded, either at the hands of the Government or of a mob.

Between these two classes of sectional ultraists are interposed the great mass of the people -the true Union-loving men of the country.-These are firm, united and inexorable in one letermination-to discountenance all sectional gitation, and to have peace restored whenever the Rebels shall lay down their arms and return Union men who have been elected," etc. Our laws. They will not listen to, and do not wish prediction has been verified much sooner than iaws. They will not listen to, and do not wish to be troubled with, any plans of compromise, into which this acquiescence in and submission to the Constitution and laws does not enter as the main condition. They are willing, as they all those who think with him, and have been Lieut. Almy, and Richard Warren needs all those who think with him, and have been Lieut. When will our Army move South !

This question is common; but as yet the only answer that can be given is," Don't know." From indications by telegraph, which we regard as very unreliable, it appears that it has been determined that there will be no further movement of the great body of our troops, until after the meeting, and perhaps the adjourn ment, of the extra session of Congress, which lowing dispatch explains the matter:

One of the reasons for this, assigned by the New York papers, is that the Administration does not want the action of Congress influenced by the success or reverses of our army, which may take place, if battles are fought while eral Go Congress is in session.

Without considering the propriety of delay

As to whether it will be good policy in a milltary point of view-we leave that for those who are charged with its management. It is probable, however, that that policy will not be adopted, as Gen. GREELY, of the Tribune, In his last paper, gives the following order from

"Forward to Richmond! Forward to Richmond! The Robel Congress must not be allowed to meet there on the 20th of July! By that pare the Place MUST HELD BY THE NATIONAL ARMY!" We suppose Lincoln, Scott and all suberdiate officers must obey!

BF The country is looking forward with profound anxiety for the forthcoming message of Mr. LINCOLN to the extra session of Congress. Many fear that the frequent journeys of the ir repressibles to Washington, such as Wilson, WADE, COLFAX, &c. &c., and the givings out of the telegraph that they have the ear of the ocsupant of the White House, if true, as they are believed to be, may have an influence to mould the Executive message, and thus give a turn to the war not designed in the President's Proclamation or contemplated by the volunteers who have so nobly responded to it. The Cleveland Herald and Leader sgree upon the proposition to bury the Republican party; dent Lincoln? The Republican press is "vilely" bitter against Mr. Caivreners, because it is said he proposes to offer some proposition at the extra session of Congress looking to a settlement of our national troubles, and may put an end to the war. of my regiment and 360 Virginians were engoged for 5½ hours with 4½ regiments of the enemy at Bethel Church, nine miles from

The enemy made three distinct and well sustained charges but were templand with heavy

Fearing that heavy re-inforcements would be sent up from Fortress Monroe, we fell back at night-fall upon our works at Yorktown. I regret to report the loss of one man killed, private Henry L. IT The following is taken from the New York Observer, a religious paper:

UPHOLD THE CONSTITUTION -The Constitution s of more value than all the Presidents, from Washington to Lincoln; of more value than fifty Souths or Norths; of more value than millions of lives or money. And when the daily newspapers speak of setting aside the Constitu-tion because its provisions make the work of war too slow, they are preparing the way for nother revolution.

If this war cannot be carried on under the Constitution, then it is a wicked war, and the men who are waging it are tyrants and deepots, whose feet are on the necks of the people already. One of the daily papers of this city, a leading journal, high in the confidence of the Administration, thus prepares the way for the approaching session of Congress:

"Congress will act as if invested with the "Congress will act as it invested with the power of a National Convention; for in merely sanctioning, what the Executive has already done, in the levying of troops for three years, in the use of unappropriated moneys for extraordinary expenses, and in its appointments, it will have to transcend the authority of the Constitution. And there can be no hesitation, not only in appropring these acts, but, if necessary only in approving these acts, but, if necessary, resorting to other measures equally unwarranted by the precise letter of that instrument. It may be useless for the friends of the Con stitution to raise a voice of remonstrarce at this stage of the business, and in the present state of the public mind. But we fear that the men who propose to set aside first the Govern-ment, and now the Constitution, are preparing to divide the North and inaugurate another war, far more tremendous than the one now on our hands. When the American people come to understand that it is seriously contemplated to make this war subversive of the Constitution, they will arise in their majesty, and in a way not to be misunderstood, rescue and pre-serve the charter of our liberties. These are nent government.

Cause of the Mob at Milwankee. A gentleman who is familiar with the state of affairs at Milwaukee, gives the following his-tory of the causes which have led to the present difficulties:

Some three months ago, about forty country banks were thrown out by the banks of Chicago, on account of the character of their securities, their entire assets being in Southern bonds.—
Subsequently the remaining banks met in convention at Milwaukee, and agreed to receive on deposit the bills of all banks which were then considered good—some eighty in number—until the first day of December, when their new banking law comes into effect. By that law, the banks of the State were not obliged, between March and the first of December to redeem their bills in specie.

Recently, several of the banks in Milwaukee Recently, several of the banks in Milwaukee which were represented in the Bankers' Convention, viz.: the State Bank, Bank of Milwaukee, Junean Bank, and Mitchell's Fire Insurance Company, the heaviest in Wisconsin, repudiated their own action, and refused the bills of the country banks. This action prevented the country dealers from making payments in the neast way to wholesale merchants of Milwaukee, causing great interruption and difficulty in their business. Hence the uprising, and mobocratic demonstration.

What is to be Done With Mr. Harvey The delay in the case of Harvey continues to excite indignant comment. It has not yet been determined either to recall or retain him. The Secretary of the Interior said a day or two ago. that Mr. Harvey had "done nothing which any loyal cilizen might not have done." But I am informed, on the best anthority, that all the proofs against finim have not yet been made known to all the members of the Cabinet. But why the delay in demanding their production? There is good reason to believe that they are of the most damning character. Toleration even of such a suspicion argues a compileity in seme direction, or, at least, lack of a proper sense of dignity and self-respect among some who stand higher than foreign ministers. The people will not be content with a husbing up of this matter, to suit the purposes of any person or persons whatsoever. Mr. Harvey must be unequivocally exonerated by the facts in the case, or recalled in disgrace, or the Administration must share in the edium of his retention. The delay to act in this case, together, with the promotion of the traitor and secessionist. Major Emory, are everywhere sunjects of indignant comment. Unless remedied, they will do more to demoralize the public service and to weaken the hands of the Government than all the previous treshery and desertion which have characterized this rebellion; for the Administration, not content, with a mild tolerance of treason, openly, and to the dispat of all loyal citzens, rewards it.

The above is from the New York Tribune Washington correspondent. It would seem that the Administration is not content with showing a mild toleration for traitors, but is really rewarding them!!
